Dear students,

Here you can find information on the logistic modalities for my part of the course, in General Psychology. The oral exam will last 30-40 minutes, while the written exam will last 2 hours. Therefore, I have organized a reservation system, aiming at optimizing time.

These are the possible dates for winter session:
- oral exam: January: 26th, 27th, 29th, 30th; February: 2nd, 8th, or 9th; in my office at MIS 3.08 (third floor, Missionshaus, Brixen)
- written exam: Monday, the 29th of January; in a room to be defined (look to Cockpit).

Topics of the exam
My course is aimed at providing students with several keys to understand the matter/world, and to proficiently interact with it. Therefore, the exam will investigate your knowledge of both conceptual and pragmatic issues, based on all the lectures (published powerpoints, published video) and the textbook. Students will not be asked to literally reproduce information, but they must show to be able to manage it by producing connections, examples, argumentations, and facing challenges. If the student cannot apply knowledge, I will assess whether the information is known or not: however, remember that if you know one information but you cannot use it, it is the same as if you do not know it.

Attending/non-attending
Many professors provide a different program to those who can attend to the lessons, and to those who could not attend them. Given that the material is on Moodle, that all lectures have been video-recorded, that I am available by email/moodle/office hours, I do not consider any difference in the program between those students who attended to all the lessons of the course, and those who did not. For those students feeling themselves with a “handicap” and would like to receive further material, they are required to arrange the program with me at least 3 weeks before the exam.

Procedure:
A reservation is mandatory. It will be made through two systems:
- > the enrolment to the Faculty Internet site (Cockpit: https://cockpit.scientificnet.org), AND
- > filling up this questionnaire: https://survey.unibz.it/opinio/s?s=11026
- with the following information: name, surname, email, academic year, course, type of exam (oral or written), at least 2 options for the appointment.

Deadline (last day for filling the questionnaire up): Thursday, the 18th of January, 23.59CET.

In one of the days after to the deadline, I will send an email to all the people enrolled to confirm the appointment (orals will be decided based on the received requests). The schedule will be published both on Moodle. If you do not see your name there (but you have sent the email for sure - email problems may always happen) or if you notice errors or would like to revise your intention, you should write to me as soon as you can.

Useful information:
- exam enrolment through the questionnaire is necessary in order to define day and hour of the appointment;
- in any case, everybody must enrol with the faculty system (Cockpit) too, within its deadline. This is necessary in order to have the document;
- I will not reply to the singular emails (unless you’d ask it with the automatic receipt process), but only after the deadline.
- I would suggest you to be present 10 minutes before, with respect to the scheduled time;
- It is not a problem to change your appointment even after the final schedule or to withdraw from the exam: however, please consider that there will only be few probabilities that your request will be accepted. Just send me an email (within the day before the exam itself);
- since this exam is in a module with Prof. Tschiesner, the final date of your exam will be set when the two votes are both positive; if you’ll pass one of the two exams, that vote will be maintained until you’ll complete the whole exam.

My flexibility is high in following your suggestions, since I was not forced to giving you the opportunity to decide in advance (among my availability). However, you should collaborate, by following this system and by respecting the commitments.

Kindest regards,

[Signature]

DEMIS BASSO